Patrick is a Partner at GGA, specializing in Executive Search solutions and contributing deep expertise to GGA's Strategy and Operations consulting assignments. Patrick joined GGA in 2019 to continue expanding on an illustrious career in the private club industry.

Prior to joining GGA, Patrick was as the Chief Operating Officer at The Alotian Club, an ultra-exclusive private club owned by Mr. Warren Stephens. As the Chief Operating Officer and General Manager at several of the nation's most esteemed and prestigious clubs, and the Club Manager at Augusta National Golf Club, home to the world-famous Masters Golf Tournament, Patrick has a deep understanding of private club operations.

Through his active involvement in national associations and contributions to a growing list of state boards, committees, and volunteer organizations, Patrick not only understands club managers but has become a trustworthy and reliable source for placing the right candidates in the right positions to succeed.
